

What's new at PBE

We are excited to update you with a number of new developments here at Pro Bono Economics. Our team has grown, with the recent hire of Susannah Behr, our new Director of Income Generation.

We would also like to welcome Jenny Scott, Damien Régent and Belinda Phipps to our board, having recently joined as PBE trustees.

Our annual volunteers event is due to be held in November 2018; further details will be sent in due course!

On the 18th May 2018, we hosted an event with Bank of America Merrill Lynch, discussing the importance of skill-based volunteering and highlighting the crucial role that Pro Bono Economics plays in this space. Co-founder and trustee Andy Haldane was the keynote speaker, and joining him on the panel were Catherine Roche (CEO, Place2Be) and Dr Allan Little (Place2Be report author).

On the 5th June 2018, we presented at the Bain Social Impact Sounding Board, discussing impact measurement and translating insights into frontline action. Thanks go to Bain & Company for hosting this fantastic

We are excited to announce we will be hosting roundtable events with in the future, discussing the value of data and mental health with experts in these areas. Keep an eye on our channels for further details on these.

SIB toolkit: sneak preview and online survey

Youth employment charity ThinkForward are creating a guide to Social Impact Bonds aimed at providers, and are seeking feedback from charities and social enterprises before further development.

If you have a few minutes to share your thoughts, that would be brilliant!

- If you have 2 minutes, please email Jessica Harneyford (jessica.harneyford@thinkforward.org.uk) with a response to this question: if you wanted to find out more about Social Impact Bonds, where would you look?
- If you have 10 to 15 minutes, please go here to have a sneak preview of the draft toolkit and share your thoughts

The consultation closes on Friday (29th June).

Project updates

The Reader

Volunteers from Source HEOR provided The Reader with advice on outcome measures and variables for their Shared Reading programme, to inform a future economic evaluation.

Place2Be

Dr Allan Little worked on a cost-benefit analysis to demonstrate the value of Place2Be's 1-2-1 counselling service for primary school children.
